

Tech Tools:

There are too many devices and software programs to name them all but we will periodically highlight a product that some in our community are using that may be useful as part of your digital security plan. For now, you might check out the Disney Circle! It filters web content and allows you to set restrictions for each device attached to your home WiFi network.

Review: <https://www.asecurelife.com/circle>

<https://www.popsugar.com/moms/Ways-Monitor-Kid-Mobile-Devices-37239442>

<https://www.usatoday.com/story/tech/reviewedcom/2017/05/10/these-three-products-will-keep-your-kids-safe-onlineand-your-mind-at-ease/101484722/>

<https://www.common sensemedia.org/blog/step-by-step-tips-to-set-up-your-kids-iphone>

<https://www.google.com/amp/s/amp.common sense.org/blog/3b1ccbae-cec5-4228-a52f-a5a45927dd6e>

When it comes to our children, it seems that that technology worries are mainly two-fold:

1) We desire to guard our children's innocence and help them learn to make virtuous decisions as they navigate the digital space and

2) We desire to protect their privacy and physical safety.